Thrombosis and Haemostasis

RATE CARD NO. 29

Effective October 2009

Description

THROMBOSIS AND HAEMOSTASIS publishes original articles with a broad scope in basic research and clinical studies in vascular biology and medicine. Categories include: blood coagulation, fibrinolysis and cellular haemostasis; platelets and blood cells; wound healing and inflammation/infection; endothelium and vascular development; cardiovascular biology and cell signalling; cellular proteolysis and oncology; new technologies, diagnostic tools and drugs. The Journal's contribution to advancing the field of haematology is the reason that haematologists, clinical pharmacologists, cardiologists, surgeons, internal specialists and laboratory physicians read THROMBOSIS AND HAEMOSTASIS.

THROMBOSIS AND HAEMOSTASIS, the established publication platform with a proven reputation and renowned authors, presents innovative results and strong science to serve the scientific community of today and tomorrow.

THROMBOSIS AND HAEMOSTASIS is published monthly in print (ISSN 0340-6245) and online (www.thrombosis-online.com). Online services include manuscript submission and review, rapid preprint publication: TH First, eToC, as well as unrestricted access to our online archive – free to all subscribers. The Journal is covered in the main abstracting and indexing services worldwide.

General Business Terms

1. "Advertisement" or "advertisement order" in accordance with the following General Business Terms and Conditions is the contract regarding the publication of one or several advertisements, inserts and/or bound inserts of a promoter for the purpose of distribution in printed matter of Schattauer GmbH.

2. Advertising orders shall be executed within one year after conclusion of the contract. Should the right to recall individual advertisements be extended to the client, the order shall be executed within one year of the appearance of the first advertisement.

3. The publisher shall be entitled to decline advertisements and orders for insertion even after the conclusion of the contract by reason of their content, on the grounds of origin or technical form in accordance with the uniformly applicable regulations of the publisher, if such content conflicts with the law, with legal provisions, or with common moral standards, or if the publisher deems their publication unreasonable. This shall also apply to inserts and supplement contracts. They may also be declined if they would tend, through their format or layout, to create in the reader the impression that they form an integral part of the magazine or journal.

4. The publishing company shall only be bound to include advertisements in certain editions or at certain positions in case of corresponding written agreement.

5. Advertising orders are binding, if they are given in person, by telephone, in writing, or by telecopier. The information contained in the publishing company's confirmation of order is the information the publishing company uses to carry out the order.

6. The customer shall ensure the timely delivery of impeccable, suitable print documents. As a rule we receive these as data ready for print in accordance with our respective actual technical information, such as are printed, for example, in our "media data". Print documents which deviate from this must be coordinated with the advertisement department of the publishing company in advance. A proof with binding colours and contents must be made available to the print office stated by the publishing company with the data delivery for purposes of quality control. The publishing company assumes no guarantee for colour rendition and contents in the absence of a proof.

7. Any costs for changes to originally agreed executions and for producing or data processing of necessary print documents and drawings and other print preliminary stage costs, also for cancelled advertisements, shall be borne by the customer. The print files (print documents) shall be deleted one month after publication of the magazine concerned. Other print documents shall only be returned to the customer upon special request. The duty for storage shall also end after one month.

8. Proofs shall only be supplied at the express request of the customer. The customer assumes the responsibility for the accuracy of returned proofs or contact pressures and if applicable corrections which may have been made. If the customer does not return the proof sent to him within the set deadline, the authorization to print is deemed as granted.

9. The customer shall be entitled to a reduction in payment or a substitute advertisement in case of whole or partially illegible, incorrect or incomplete printing of the advertisement, however only to the extent, in which the purpose of the advertisement was impaired. Further claims against the publishing company are excluded. Complaints must be asserted within the exclusion period of one month after receipt of invoice and voucher. A right of cancellation is granted under the condition that the cancellation is announced at least three weeks before the respective closing date.

10. In the case of box number advertisements the publisher shall bear only such liability as is customary in the publishing business for the safekeeping and timely forwarding of mail. Liability for indirect damages is excluded. Registered and express mail shall be forwarded by normal mail. Storage time for incoming mail shall be four weeks after receipt. After that time, mail received shall be destroyed.

11. No claim under the warranty or for compensation for damages shall be admitted that has not been made within four weeks after publication of the advertisement through a written notification of errors.

12. If an order is not carried out for circumstances which are beyond the control of the publishing company the customer must reimburse the publishing company the difference between the granted discount and the discount which corresponds with the actual acceptance irrespective of possible other legal obligations. In the event that the publishing company is responsible for the circumstances which prevented the performance, the obligation for reimbursement shall cease to apply.

13. It is agreed that such compensation shall apply as is set forth in the relevant schedule of fees issued by the publisher. For calculation of advertisement space sold, text millimetres shall be converted into advertisement millimetres to obtain price. Should specific size of advertisement not be agreed upon, the advertisement shall be invoiced on the basis of the size actually published. Compensation shall be payable within the collection period stipulated in the schedule of fees. In case of a delay of payment the statutory interest on arrears will be effective. Where payment is delayed the publisher shall be able to defer the further execution of current orders until payment is made without thereby cancelling the entire order.

14. All contracts shall be subject to the laws of Germany. For contracts between independent foreign subsidiaries and their clients, the law of the country in which the subsidiary is registered is binding. Place of performance and jurisdiction is the headquarters of the subsidiary.

15. Place of performance and judicium venue is the city of Stuttgart.

16. In accordance with §§ 26 and 34 of the Bundesdatenschutzgesetz of 01.01.1978 we herewith give notice that we shall be employing electronic data processing for administration and invoicing of the contract. For this purpose we or a third party shall be storing personally applicable data insofar as it is of significance for the performance of the contract.

17. Where not otherwise stipulated in these »General Business Terms and Conditions Governing Advertising Orders«, our »Allgemeine Lieferbedingungen« (»General Terms and Conditions of Supply«) shall apply.

18. Any oral agreements not in keeping with the conditions for delivery and payment must be in writing.

19. If the client's billing address differs from his mailing address, the client must inform the publishing company accordingly and provide the appropriate address.

20. If one of the above conditions violates any law or regulation, the validity of none of the other conditions is affected. In such a case, the void condition should be interpreted in a manner that permits the achievement of the aim the void condition was intended to achieve.
